

The Addendum

addendum: Something to be added, esp. to a document; a supplement.

FROM THE DIRECTOR...

Over the past month, the sounds of construction have been heard on the first floor of the law library as new offices for our four reference librarians were constructed (see photos inside). Moving day was Friday, September 14th. The reference librarians are now located in their new offices on the Assembly Street side of the first floor of the law library. Please stop by and see their new space.

The previous reference librarian suite, room 103A, will be used temporarily as a conference room. Law faculty, law students, and law school organizations can reserve the room through the Circulation desk.

More improvements are on the way. Additional electrical outlets are being added to the open carrels on the third floor of the law library. With the adoption of the mandatory laptop policy, more students are seeking a power source for their laptops. We hope the additional outlets on the third floor will aid students in their research and studying.

We apologize in advance for any noise or disruption as we improve the library facilities. Let us know how you like these changes.

Duncan Alford
Associate Dean and Director of the Law Library

Thanks to all of our patrons for your patience during the construction of the new Reference Librarians' offices and the moving process!

They are all settling in nicely and look forward to being able to meet with their students in private offices!
